Academic interests

My primary interests lie in the dialectical relationship between communal worship, belief, and ethics. I am persuaded that all of the Church must be centered around the Trinity, encountered chiefly in the sacraments which offer the Church vocation and empowerment in, with, and for the world. This sacramental foundation shapes and grounds ecclesiology as its political posture and citizenship in the world.

I plan to do further research and writing in the areas that include:

Eucharist and Eschatology

Ecclesiology

Christology

Political Theology

Sacramental and Liturgical Theology

Atonement for the Sinned Against
